

Prodigal: From Rebellion to Redemption

Is your life moving closer to God or moving away from Him? (Luke 15:11-16)

1. Living life on my own terms _____ from God. (Luke 15:12)

My rebellion does more than break “the rules”—it breaks my relationship with God. (Luke 15:13; Isaiah 59:2a)

Chasing after substitutes for God will ultimately leave me empty.
(Luke 15:13b-14)

Sin is fun for a season!

Going my own way has a price (Proverbs 14:12). It costs me:

- My connection with God
- My freedom
- My time
- My future

Where have I spent myself emotionally, physically and mentally that has left me empty?

Where am I living “wild” in ways that draw me away from God?

In all of my “running”, is it possible I’m looking for God and don’t realize it?

2. My _____ begins by realizing that life apart from God is no life at all. (Luke 15:17-18)

No matter what I might think, I’m never too far gone from God. (Luke 15:19-20a)

Repentance is about pivoting my life back to God. (Psalm 32:5; Luke 15:20b-24)

3. My life is not marked by my _____, but my
_____.

God will make the dead things in my life come alive again. (2 Corinthians 5:17)
